

PEACHES

Do you know what a stone fruit is?

Stone fruits come with a fleshy exterior known as the mesocarp (covered with a skin, or exocarp) that encases a stone or pit (the shell of which is a hardened endocarp with a seed inside). Also known as drupes, this category includes PEACHES, plums, cherries, nectarines, apricots, and pluots.

Locally farmed in Castellanos Farms

from Dinuba in Tulare County, California.

Jesus Castellanos and his family farm a total of 140 acres, specializing in citrus and stone fruits, a year-round farm that offers the highest quality produce he can grow.
