MESSAGE FROM SUPERINTENDENT CARVALHO

Dear Los Angeles Unified Families,

Los Angeles Unified School District is a vibrant, global community spanning 710 square miles, with families who speak over 150 languages. Our Board of Education and I view our global community as a core strength, which is why we are committed to supporting every student, family, employee, and community member to ensure our schools remain safe and inclusive spaces for all.

We are excited to share our Los Angeles Unified We Are One Resource Guide, designed to provide our community with essential information and resources.

This Guide aims to support everyone who interacts with our schools by promoting joy, wellness, knowledge, and access to the support that allow our families to thrive and feel respected.

This Guide and our Family Academy efforts connect families with vital services on topics including Know Your Rights information about education, health, housing, and immigration. Additionally, the District, alongside community partners, will offer online and in-person workshops via the Family Academy to foster a welcoming environment at our school sites and offices.

I am personally committed to this effort because, like many of you, I am an immigrant to this country. I came here eager to embrace the boundless opportunities this great nation offers. During my conversations with students, families, and leaders, I hear a clear message: we must model for the world how our individuality—across heritage, cultures, and languages—makes Los Angeles Unified stronger.

Now more than ever, our youth need us to stand together, showing them how to engage in respectful dialogue, embrace who they love and what they believe, and empower them to become the transformative leaders of tomorrow.

Please join me in spreading the message and resources of We Are One across Los Angeles Unified. Families and employees in need of support can visit lausd.org/weareone for more information or call the Los Angeles Unified Family Hotline at (213) 443-1300 for additional assistance.

Sincerely,
Alberto M. Carvalho
Superintendent

District personnel cannot give legal advice concerning specific matters. However, it is the District's opinion that licensed attorneys are the most likely to provide reliable legal advice. Please note that the information provided does not necessarily reflect the opinions of the District and may only be used for informational purposes.

L.A. Unified compiled this comprehensive guide with the assistance of various nonprofit organizations with expertise in immigration and other related fields. This guide does not offer legal advice. It provides some guidance on how to be prepared and links to educational, health, and legal services. The information contained in this guide is subject to revisions and updates depending on any changes in policies, procedures, and law.

RESILIENT FAMILIES, RESILIENT COMMUNITIES

Major shifts, such as pending changes to immigration and other policies, can bring feelings of worry and fear, creating uncertainty that affects many aspects of our lives. One way to navigate this uncertainty is by focusing on building resilience skills. Resilience is the ability to adapt, recover, and grow when facing challenges. These skills not only help us address current challenges in our community but also prepare us to face future struggles with strength and adaptability.

Sense of Safety

A sense of safety is essential for resilience, enabling us to explore and learn. It involves creating a protective and supportive environment through consistent routines, open communication, and reassurance during changes. When children feel safe, they can better face challenges with confidence.

Ability to Calm

The ability to calm is a key resilience skill, enabling us to manage stress, anxiety, and emotions effectively. When we can self-soothe or seek support we can better face challenges and make thoughtful decisions. Using calming strategies help us regain control and emotional balance.

Connection

Connectedness is the sense of belonging and feeling supported by others. This means having strong, positive relationships with family, friends, teachers, and the broader community. Feeling connected provides trust, security, and confidence, helping us navigate life's challenges.

Self and Community Efficacy

Self-efficacy and community efficacy are interconnected resilience factors that help us face challenges confidently. Self-efficacy refers to the belief in our own abilities to manage tasks and emotions, while community efficacy is the shared belief in a group's collective support. When we feel our community is reliable and supportive, we become more resilient and engaged.

Hope and Growth Mindset

These mindsets empower us to face challenges with optimism and resilience, and view challenges as learning opportunities.

KNOW YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS

All people in the United States, regardless of immigration status, have certain rights and protections under the U.S. Constitution. Knowing and asserting rights can make a huge difference in many situations, such as when ICE agents go to a home. The information included in this resource guide provides students, families and school staff with critical information for working together to assert the rights of all within the L.A. Unified school community.

A Summary of Your Rights from the California Department of Justice's Office of the Attorney General

You have the right to apply for and secure housing without sharing your immigration status. California law prohibits housing providers from asking about your immigration status unless you are applying for affordable housing funded by the federal government. Additionally, housing providers cannot harass or intimidate you by threatening or sharing information about your immigration status to ICE, law enforcement, or other government agencies.

You have the right to access emergency medical care. Federal laws and regulations ensure the rights of all people, including undocumented immigrants, to access emergency medical care.

You have the right to a workplace free of harassment and discrimination. Under California law, you are protected from harassment and discrimination based on your national origin, ancestry, race, ethnicity, and other protected characteristics. Your employer cannot threaten to call immigration authorities as retaliation for reporting harassment or discrimination on the job. Your employer is also not allowed to ask about or look into your immigration status, unless they must do so to comply with federal immigration law and regulations, and you are not required to share this information.

You have the right to ask companies to stop selling your data or to delete your data. It is important to understand your data privacy rights, and it can be helpful to reduce the number of companies that are storing or selling data about you. For information on these rights and how to exercise them go to oag.ca.gov/privacy/ccpa.

You have the right to an attorney. If you are arrested by police, you have the right to a government-appointed lawyer. If you are detained by ICE, you have the right to consult with a lawyer, but the government is not required to provide one for you. You can ask for a list of free or low-cost alternatives. To find a legal aid organization near you, go to lawhelpca.org.

You have the right to access your police report. State and local law enforcement agencies cannot deny a victim of a crime access to their crime report because the victim cannot prove lawful presence in the country.

Your child has a right to a free public education regardless of immigration status. They also have a right to be in a public school learning environment free from discrimination, harassment, bullying, and intimidation. Schools must accept a variety of documents from the student's parent or guardian to demonstrate proof of age and residency.

Information about citizenship/immigration status is never needed for school enrollment. You do not have to share information regarding passports or visas, or regarding the immigration status of a child, parent, guardian or other family member. And you do not have to provide a social security number or other card for either enrollment or for free or reduced-price school breakfast and lunch.

State and local law enforcement cannot ask for your immigration status for immigration enforcement purposes.

California law expressly prohibits law enforcement from inquiring about a person's immigration status for immigration enforcement purposes.

State and local law enforcement cannot share your personal information for immigration enforcement purposes.

This includes your home or work address for immigration purposes, unless that information is available to the public or unless that information involves previous criminal arrest, convictions or similar criminal history.

State and local law enforcement cannot assist ICE with immigration enforcement, with very limited exceptions.

This means state and local law enforcement cannot investigate, cannot interrogate, cannot arrest, and cannot detain you unless they are part of a joint federal task force where the primary purpose of the task force is not immigration enforcement.

Report a Complaint

If you believe your rights have been violated, report it to the California Department of Justice at oag.ca.gov/report.

If you believe you were subject to discrimination, harassment or retaliation, report it to the California Department of Civil Rights at civildrights.ca.gov/complaintprocess/.

EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS

Right to Enroll Your Child at any Public School

The 1982 Supreme Court Case Plyler vs. Doe held that all children have a Constitutional right to access a free public education regardless of their immigration status or that of their parents. All students, including those who are undocumented or come from immigrant families, have the right to attend public school, participate in school activities, and receive a quality education without discrimination. Every student, regardless of immigration status, will be immediately enrolled in school.

For additional support, contact the School Enrollment, Placement & Assessment Center Central Los Angeles location at (213) 482-3954 or San Fernando Valley location at (818) 909-4593.

Right to Confidentiality of Personal Information

L.A. Unified shall not allow school resources or data to be used to create a registry based on race, gender, sexual orientation, religion, ethnicity, or national origin.

The Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) generally prohibits school districts from providing other entities, government or otherwise, with student education records. Schools are prohibited from requesting social security numbers or inquiring about the citizenship or immigration status of students or their parents or guardians, unless explicitly required by law or as required to administer a state or federally supported educational program.

Schools must protect the privacy of their students. Schools are prohibited from sharing personal information about students or their family members for immigration-enforcement purposes without a court order or judicial subpoena.

Right to Non-Discrimination

L.A. Unified shall treat all students equitably in the receipt of all school services, including, but, not limited to, the gathering of student and family information for the free and reduced lunch program, transportation, and educational instruction.

Complaint Rights

You have the right to file a complaint under the District's Uniform Complaints Procedures for noncompliance with state and federal laws and regulations, including but not limited to alleging discrimination, harassment, intimidation and/or bullying. Complainants are protected from retaliation. Complaints under various venues (e.g., UCPs, special education due process, Title IX) are afforded to all students regardless of immigration status. For more information regarding this, visit lausd.org/Page/3655.

Right to Request Special Education Services

You have the right to request additional services that will support learning and success by:

- Requesting an assessment of student's educational needs
- Receiving English language development support (if needed)
- Having an evaluation to determine if student has a disability
- Receiving special education services under the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) or Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973
- For any questions related to Special Education contact the School and Family Support Services (SFSS) call center at (213) 241-6701 or Email: spedSFSS@lausd.net

Rights for LGBTQ+ Students & Families

L.A. Unified policies and California Education Code outline rights for LGBTQ+ students in the following documents:

- Recognizing students by their affirmed name and pronouns (Ed. Code § 66271.4, LAUSD BUL-5703.4 Name and/or Gender Marker Change; BUL-141509 Affirming Transgender, Nonbinary and Gender Diverse Employees)
- Participate in sex-segregated programs, facilities, and activities, including athletics, consistent with their gender identity (Ed. Code § 221.5, LAUSD BUL-6224.2 Gender Identity and Students – Ensuring Equity and Nondiscrimination)
- Learn LGBTQ+ inclusive curriculum (Ed. Codes §§ 51204.5, 60040)
- Be “out” - or not (confidentiality) (Ed. Codes § 200-220, § 234)
- Gender-neutral dress codes (Title IV, Title IX, Non-Discrimination, LAUSD BUL-6494.2 Student Dress Codes/Uniforms)
- Be treated with respect and in a nondiscriminatory manner

IMMIGRATION RIGHTS

The United States Constitution guarantees certain rights for every person living in the United States, whether immigrant or native-born citizen, documented or undocumented. It is important to know and assert your rights.

For helpful videos on your rights, in a variety of languages, visit: wehaverights.us.

When to Exercise Your Rights

- Immigration & Customs Enforcement (ICE) comes to your home looking for someone
- Police stops you for questioning
- ICE Raids – home, public or work sites

These rights can be summarized in a “Red Card” that will help you assert your rights if you encounter an immigration enforcement official. Hand the Red Card to the officer and remember that you do not have to answer any questions. You can request cards in a number of languages at ilrc.org/red-cards.

You have constitutional rights:

- DO NOT OPEN THE DOOR if an immigration agent is knocking on the door.
- DO NOT ANSWER ANY QUESTIONS from an immigration agent if they try to talk to you. You have the right to remain silent.
- DO NOT SIGN ANYTHING without first speaking to a lawyer. You have the right to speak with a lawyer.
- If you are outside of your home, ask the agent if you are free to leave and if they say yes, leave calmly.
- GIVE THIS CARD TO THE AGENT. If you are inside of your home, show the card through the window or slide it under the door.

Usted tiene derechos constitucionales:

- NO ABRA LA PUERTA si un agente de inmigración está tocando la puerta.
- NO CONTESTE NINGUNA PREGUNTA de un agente de inmigración si el trata de hablar con usted. Usted tiene el derecho de mantenerse callado.
- NO FIRME NADA sin antes hablar con un abogado. Usted tiene el derecho de hablar con un abogado.
- Si usted está afuera de su casa, pregunte al agente si es libre para irse y si dice que sí, váyase con tranquilidad.
- ENTREGUE ESTA TARJETA AL AGENTE si usted está dentro de su casa, muestre la tarjeta por la ventana o pásela debajo de la puerta.

Right to Remain Silent

Everyone has the right to remain silent. You can state or claim your 5th Amendment rights and choose not to speak. You don't have to answer any questions or disclose any information regarding where you were born or how you entered the United States. Anything you say to federal immigration enforcement officials can be used against you.

Right to Deny Entry to Your Home

You may talk with an ICE officer without having to open your door. You are encouraged to look through a window or peephole or ask them to identify themselves without opening the door. Be aware that, in some cases, ICE agents may identify themselves as police officers.

They are not allowed to enter your home unless you invite them in or if they have a warrant signed by a judge. You may ask them to hold the warrant up against a window or slide it under the door. To ensure the validity of the warrant, make sure that it includes your correct name and address.

Right to Speak to an Attorney

You may have a lawyer by your side if ICE or other law enforcement officers begin to question you. If you are detained or arrested by ICE or other law enforcement, you have the right to speak with an attorney and should ask for one immediately.

You also have a right to a court hearing and for a judge to review your case. While a judge reviews your case, you can remain in the United States until a final decision is made.

The language used on legal documents may be confusing or hard to understand—so do not sign anything if you are not certain about what it means. Always speak to an attorney before signing anything given to you by ICE.

If you are questioned by an immigration officer, simply ask that you wish to speak to a lawyer. If the questioning continues, repeat your request to speak with a lawyer.

Right to Hearing and Asylum Requests

Most non-citizens facing deportation have a right to a hearing in immigration court with an immigration judge.

Currently, everyone has a right to request asylum if they fear being harmed in their country of origin.

Additional Information to Support & Defend Your Legal Rights

- If possible, take pictures and record any encounters with federal immigration enforcement officials. Try to take note of all names, badge numbers, time, location, and exactly what happened. You can use this information in your defense.
- Make sure to have a trustworthy attorney on hand to help explore all your options when arguing your case. You may be eligible for bail or there may be forms of immigration relief that you are not aware of.
- Speak to your family, including your children, about critical information that every member of the family must know regarding legal guardianship, health records, important documents, and who to contact at the school site should a member or caretaker of the family be detained by ICE. Keep your documents updated and located in a safe and accessible area. More information on Emergency Preparedness Plans can be found by visiting www.ilrc.org/resources/step-step-family-preparedness-plan and by using this QR code.

Beware of Fraud! There are many “notary publics” who represent themselves as attorneys. File a complaint against a “Notario” or fraudulent provider call the Los Angeles County Department of Consumer and Business Affairs at (800) 593-8222 or visit www.dcba.lacounty.gov/portfolio/immigration-services-fraud to file online.

Ways to Change Your Immigration Status

- If any immediate relative is a lawful permanent resident or citizen
- If you are a youth that has experienced abuse, abandonment, or neglect
- If you have been a victim of a crime and reported the incident
- If you have been a victim of trafficking
- If you have been a victim of domestic violence

FAMILY AND PREPAREDNESS PLAN

Every family should have a Family Preparedness Plan that can assist in an emergency. This plan should include the following elements:

- Ensure your school, child, and designated caretaker/guardian have accurate information.
- Consider having a Caregiver Affidavit on file with the student’s school in the case of an emergency.
- Regularly update your child’s school emergency card.
- Designate a trusted adult that can care for your child if you cannot.
- Review with designated caregiver/guardian any financial assistance available for the care of your child.
- Make a list of emergency contact information that your child can use for assistance.
- Make arrangements for childcare, and school and aftercare pickups.

Secure Legal Resources

- Seek counsel from a legitimate legal organization for information on legal guardianship.
- Check on the state bar of California website www.calbar.ca.gov under Look Up a Lawyer to ensure that an attorney is licensed to practice law.
- Review your plans and documents with a designated trusted adult, including their specific roles and responsibilities.

Organize Documents

- Securely store all important vital documents in a location that the child and/or assigned caregiver has access to. For example, birth certificates, passports, social security cards, medical records, insurance card affidavits, and other identification cards.
- Write down any medical conditions and/or medications of your child.
- Make copies of vital documents.

STEP-BY-STEP FAMILY PREPAREDNESS PLAN

Now immigrant families can more proactively prepare for immigration emergencies that arise.

NOVEMBER 2024

Every family should have a Family Preparedness Plan in case of an emergency. It is critical for immigrant families to think ahead and set more concrete plans for immigration emergencies that can arise. For example, this Resource Toolkit goes into detail about different childcare options available in case of an absent parent, where to find trusted immigration services in your community, and how to prepare to assert your constitutional rights in the presence of an immigration officer.

This toolkit is divided into different sections that give guidance on family preparedness planning, regardless of immigration status. It gives additional advice to undocumented and/or mixed status families.

For more immigration community resources, visit ilrc.org/resources.

PUBLIC CHARGE

What is Public Charge?

Some people avoid using public benefits because they think it will prevent them from getting a green card or becoming a citizen.

The public charge “test” is used by immigration officials to determine whether a noncitizen will be primarily dependent on the government for support, demonstrated by receiving public cash assistance for income maintenance or long-term institutional care paid for by the government.

The current presidential administration may try to make changes to the public charge test. Stay connected to trusted sources of information like your school, doctor or an attorney, so you can make good decisions for you and your family.

What the Public Charge Test Looks At

Only the immigrant applying for a green card through a family-based petition is affected by the public charge test, not their family members.

The test looks at whether the individual is likely to become primarily dependent on government assistance, specifically public cash assistance for income maintenance or long-term institutional care.

Does Public Charge Apply to Me? My Family?

Many immigrants do not face a public charge test and can use all public benefits without fear, including asylees, refugees, people with U and T visas, Deferred Action Childhood Arrival (DACA), Temporary Protected Status (TPS), and more. If you already have a green card, you don’t face a public charge test when you apply to become a citizen.

The use of public benefits by a U.S. citizen child does not affect the parent’s ability to get a green card or become a citizen.

Parents can apply for public benefits like CalWORKs, CalFresh, Medi-Cal, and all other public benefits for their children without impacting their own immigration status. When a parent applies for their kids, they do not have to provide either a social security number or immigration information about themselves.

Public Benefits that are Safe to Use Even if Public Charge Applies to You

Medi-Cal, Covered California, CalFresh, Women Infant and Children (WIC), Section 8 and low-income housing, Employment Development Department (EDD) benefits, tax credits, homeless services, public school services, and school meals do not impact your immigration status.

Your children do not have to pay back the benefits when they turn 18, nor are they required to go to the military. These are harmful myths that should not stop children from accessing the resources they need.

You can also visit www.bailanetwork.org for up-to-date information about using public benefits and public charge, and to get help with legal questions and enrollment in Medi-Cal and CalFresh.

JUDICIAL VS. ADMINISTRATIVE WARRANTS

Judicial vs. Administrative Warrants: What You Need to Know

Understanding the difference between judicial and administrative warrants is crucial for protecting your rights if immigration officers visit your home.

What is a Judicial Warrant?

A judicial warrant is a document issued by a court. If immigration officers or any law enforcement agents come to your property with a judicial warrant, you must comply, as this type of warrant grants them legal permission to enter and search your premises.

Here's how to identify a valid judicial warrant:

- Issued by a court: A judicial warrant must be signed by a state or federal judge or magistrate.
- Specific address: The warrant must clearly state the address of the property being searched. Make sure the address listed matches your property.
- Time frame: The warrant will specify a time period for when it can be executed. If the warrant is being executed after this time, it may not be valid.

What is an Administrative Warrant?

An administrative warrant is very different from a judicial warrant. This type of warrant is issued by the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and is typically used by immigration officers for arrest or deportation purposes.

Here's how to identify an administrative warrant:

- Issued by a DHS agency: Look for a seal or label from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). It will also have specific form numbers like DHS Form I-200 (Warrant for Arrest) or DHS Form I-205 (Warrant of Removal/Deportation).
- Signed by an immigration officer or judge: An administrative warrant will be signed by an immigration officer or an immigration judge.
- Contains the word "Alien": The title will include the term "Alien," indicating it is related to immigration enforcement.
- No court involvement: The warrant will state that the authority to issue the warrant comes from immigration law, not from a court.

JUDICIAL VS. ADMINISTRATIVE WARRANTS

Key Differences Between Judicial and Administrative Warrants

Feature	Judicial Warrant	Administrative Warrant
Issuing Authority	Issued by a state or federal court judge or magistrate	Issued by a Department of Homeland Security (DHS) agency, such as ICE, CBP, or USCIS
Purpose	Authorizes searches, seizures, or arrests	Primarily authorizes civil immigration arrests
Distinguishing Features	Signed by a judge or magistrate Specifies an address and time period for execution	Signed by an immigration officer or judge Will mention the term "Alien" and be related to immigration law
Legal Force	Must be complied with	Does not require compliance
Scope of Authority	Authorizes entry to private areas if valid	Does not authorize entry to nonpublic areas

HEALTH AND WELLNESS RIGHTS

In California, your family has the right to access affordable and quality healthcare, including mental health services. Since January 1, 2024, more people are eligible for full Medi-Cal benefits.

L.A. Unified has various resources available, including the School Enrollment, Placement and Assessment (SEPA) Centers, school based health clinics, mental health clinics, and wellness centers located throughout the District. Contact any of these sites for assistance with health and wellness needs or call the Student and Family Wellness Hotline at (213) 241-3840.

Your Rights

All members of our school community have Constitutional rights regardless of immigration status. Los Angeles Unified has also adopted and affirmed its commitment to support immigrant families through resolutions. These limit cooperation with immigration enforcement.

Six things you need to know about your health rights:

1. Review Your Health Care Options – Sign up for full-scope “comprehensive” Medi-Cal or a health plan through Covered California if you meet the requirements www.coveredca.com/apply/. Find out if you are eligible for any of these programs by going to your local county human services office, or call the Student and Family Wellness Hotline at (213) 241-3840 (hours are Monday- Friday, 8 am - 4:30 pm) or the District’s Children’s Health Access line at (866) 742-2273.
2. Your Health Matters – If you and your children already have health care, we encourage you to set up appointments for yearly check-ups. Stay up to date with vaccinations and medical visits, and seek a medical professional when needed.
3. Personal Information Is Confidential – Your personal information provided to Covered California or Medi-Cal is not shared with immigration enforcement entities, even if a member of the family is undocumented. You do not need to provide a social security number.
4. Language assistance – Language assistance is available for any person who applies for or uses Medi-Cal or Covered California services. It is available at no cost. The person enrolling can request an interpreter who speaks their language and can request translated materials free of charge.
5. The Affordable Care Act is still the law – At this time, there are no changes to eligibility or coverage for Covered California or Medi-Cal. The best way to protect your health care is to review your health care options, sign-up if you are eligible, and utilize health services available to you and your family. Health care is a human right!
6. Financial assistance is available – All income-eligible Californians qualify for full-scope Medi-Cal benefits regardless of age or immigration status. Medi-Cal ineligible Californians can qualify for the Kaiser Permanente Community Health Care Program, regardless of age or immigration status.

STRATEGIES AND RESOURCES TO FOSTER HEALTH AND RESILIENCE

Psychological First Aid

This supportive approach helps individuals manage stress and emotions during times of change and uncertainty. Leadership transitions and pending immigration policy changes can evoke strong feelings among staff, students, families, and community members across our district and the nation. As parents and caregivers, we play a critical role in supporting our children during these challenging times. Try using these strategies to help children and teens feel heard, protected, and reassured.

Listen

Listen to what they say and observe how they act.

Protect

Protect by maintaining structure, stability, and consistency.

Connect

Connect through interaction, activities, and resources.

Model

Model calm and optimistic behavior. Children take their cues from parents and caregivers.

Teach

Teach children about the common emotional and physical responses that can occur during times of change.

STRATEGIES AND RESOURCES TO FOSTER HEALTH AND RESILIENCE

Resilience-based Approach

Major shifts, such as pending changes to immigration policies, can bring feelings of worry and fear, creating uncertainty that affects many aspects of our lives. One way to navigate this uncertainty is by focusing on building resilience skills.

Resilience is the ability to adapt, recover, and grow when facing challenges. These skills not only help us address current challenges in our community but also prepare us to face future struggles with strength and adaptability.

Sense of Safety

A sense of safety enables us to explore and learn. It involves creating a protective and supportive environment through consistent routines, open communication, and reassurance during changes.

Ability to Calm

The ability to calm allows us to manage stress, anxiety, and emotions effectively. When we can self-soothe or seek support, we can better face challenges and make thoughtful decisions. Using calming strategies help us regain control and emotional balance.

Connectedness

Connectedness is the sense of belonging and feeling supported by others. This means having strong, positive relationships with family, friends, teachers, and the broader community. Feeling connected provides trust, security, and confidence, helping us navigate life's challenges.

Self & Community Efficacy

Self-efficacy and community efficacy are interconnected resilience factors that help us face challenges confidently. Self-efficacy refers to the belief in our own abilities to manage tasks and emotions, while community efficacy is the shared belief in a group's collective support. When we feel our community is reliable and supportive, we become more resilient and engaged.

Hope & Growth Mindset

Hope and a growth mindset empower us to face challenges with optimism and resilience. Hope fosters a positive outlook, while a growth mindset emphasizes that abilities can improve with effort. Together, they help us view challenges as learning opportunities.

Here are some ideas of how to practice resilience skills in your own family and community:

Sense of Safety

Maintain routines: Establish and stick to daily routines at home to create a sense of normalcy for children.

Engage with school resources: Stay informed about the school's safety protocols and communicate with staff about any specific concerns.

Ability to Calm

Model calm behavior: Show your child how you manage stress in healthy ways such as taking a break, taking a deep breath, or going for a walk.

Create calming rituals: Share a soothing activity like reading, drawing, or listening to music before bedtime.

Connectedness

Foster cultural pride: Share traditions, stories, and meals that celebrate your family's culture.

Spend time together: Dedicate time to engage in enjoyable activities with your child or to check in by discussing their feelings and experiences.

Hope & Growth Mindset

Focus on positive stories: Share examples of resilience and success from your community to inspire optimism.

Highlight strengths: Remind your child of past challenges they've overcome to build confidence in facing new ones.

Self & Community Efficacy

Teach problem-solving: Role-play scenarios to help children practice addressing challenges.

Build community networks: Connect with other families through school events, religious gatherings, or community groups.

Recognizing When Your Child May Need Additional Support

Psychological First Aid and the resilience-based approach are universal strategies that support all youth experiencing stressful circumstances. These approaches are effective for most young people. However, stress affects each individual's mind and body differently, and some may require additional support to cope. Below is a list of common stress reactions. If you notice these behaviors persist over time, it may be time to seek additional support.

- Frequent upsetting thoughts and nightmares
- Mood changes like increased sadness and irritability
- Changes in behaviors or routines
- Altered sleep patterns or appetite
- Isolation and social withdrawal
- Difficulty focusing on tasks

- Physical complaints without medical cause
- Return to earlier behaviors (e.g., bedwetting, seeking extra comfort from caregivers)
- Increased unsafe or impulsive behaviors

Self-Care and Community Care

As parents and caregivers, we often prioritize the needs of our children above our own. However, it's important to remember that to effectively care for others, we must also take time to care for ourselves.

This can be done in two ways: self-care, which involves attending to our own physical, emotional, and spiritual needs, and community care, which focuses on supporting one another and fostering connections within the broader community. Here are a few ideas to try:

- Drink water
- Prioritize sleep
- Join community groups
- Eat healthy foods
- Connect with others
- Get outdoors
- Move your body
- Participate in your school community
- Practice deep breathing

ENROLLMENT PROCEDURES

L.A. Unified has developed policies and procedures to ensure families have no obstacles when they enroll students in school.

The enrollment process can be initiated by the parent, legal guardian, or educational rights holder (ERH), caregiver, 18-year-old student, emancipated minor, or unaccompanied homeless youth.

Students with special circumstances (e.g., students experiencing homelessness, students in foster care, youth involved in the juvenile justice system, students from active duty military families, recently immigrated youth, unaccompanied youth, and students with IEPs) should be enrolled immediately, without delay, regardless of the availability of school records, immunization records, proof of residence, school uniforms, and existence of fines from a previous school or any other documentation (E.C. §§ 48432.5, 48853, 48853.5).

In addition to providing their child's legal name and sex, parents can request that their child be recognized by a preferred name and gender marker. For more information, visit: CDE FAQ on Gender Recognition.

School offices will not limit registration and/or enrollment services to certain hours or days of the week and must enroll students during all regular school office hours.

www.cdph.ca.gov/Programs/CID/DCDC/Pages/Immunization/School/resources-parents.aspx

Having trouble accessing the above items?

Under California law, the Caregiver’s Authorization Affidavit enables a caregiver, whether related or unrelated, to enroll a child in school. Complete one form per child. The Caregiver’s Authorization Affidavit allows the caregiver to do the following for the child:

- Enroll them in school
- Get them school-related medical care such as immunizations

School personnel should provide affidavits for any missing but required documents. An affidavit is a written statement that a person makes under oath to confirm that certain facts are true. The following affidavits should be provided by school personnel as alternative documentation and placed in the student’s record once the enrollment process has been completed:

- Affidavit to Verify Residence (where student lives)
- Affidavit of Parent/Legal Guardian Identification
- Affidavit of Temporary Residence
- Caregiver’s Authorization Affidavit
- Affidavit for Proof of Age of Minor

Schools or families may contact the School Enrollment Placement and Assessment Centers (SEPA) for support and consultation when enrolling students/families who have recently immigrated and who may need support with vaccinations, school supplies, medical insurance enrollment, and/or other resources. These centers are a “one stop shop” for enrolling families.

Contact the SEPA centers:

- Central Los Angeles location at (213) 482-3954
- Visit www.lausd.org/sepacenter for more information.
- San Fernando Valley location at (818) 909-4593

For assistance with immunizations and other health related enrollment needs, families can visit one of the many clinics and/or wellness centers listed in the earlier portion of this guide.

ENGLISH LEARNER ENROLLMENT

A key component of the enrollment process is the Home Language Survey (HLS). The HLS is a questionnaire used to determine the student's primary language and whether the student will be required to take an assessment for English language proficiency. The results of the English language proficiency assessment will determine the appropriate instructional services a student will need to meet their full academic potential. California Education Code contains legal requirements which direct schools to determine the language(s) spoken in the home of each student.

The HLS consists of the following four questions:

1. What language did the student learn when he or she first began to talk?
2. What language does this student most frequently use at home?
3. What language do you use most frequently to speak to this student?
4. Which language is most often used by adults at home?

A home language determination is required only once. The information provided by the parent/guardian on the initial HLS takes precedence over any information provided on subsequent surveys.

The HLS is used solely to offer appropriate educational services, not for determining legal status or for immigration purposes.

For students enrolling in a transitional kindergarten program (4 years of age) AB 2268 exempts transitional kindergarten students from being administered either the initial or summative English Language Proficiency Assessment for California (ELPAC).

Schools have an obligation to ensure meaningful communication with parents/guardians in a language they can understand and to adequately notify parents/guardians of information about language instructional programs and services. For more information about programs, services and support please visit www.lausd.org/mmed.

SPECIAL EDUCATION RESOURCES

Special education services are specially designed instruction to meet the unique educational needs of children with disabilities who meet the eligibility criteria under the law. Special education services can begin at age three and may continue until either your child graduates with a diploma or reaches the age of 22.

A parent, guardian, teacher, other school personnel, and community members who believe that a child may need special education services may request a special education assessment of the child. The request should be made in writing and provided to the school principal. A child is eligible for special education services if an Individualized Education Program (IEP) team determines that the child has a disability and requires special education services to progress in their education.

Disabilities include:
Autism	Deafness	Deaf-Blindness
Established Medical Disability (Only for children ages 3-5)	Emotional Disability	Hearing Impairment
Intellectual Disability	Multiple Disabilities	Orthopedic Impairment
Other Health Impairment	Speech or Language Impairment	Specific Learning Disability
Traumatic Brain Injury	Visual Impairment

The special education process determines whether or not your child is eligible for special education and related services and if so, what special education and related services are appropriate for your child.

There are four basic steps in the special education process:

Step 1: Referral for Assessment	A parent, guardian, teacher, and other school personnel may request a special education assessment of the child in writing.
Step 2: Assessment	An assessment involves gathering information about your child to determine whether your child has a disability and the nature and extent of special education services that your child may need.
Step 3: Development and Implementation of an IEP	After your child has been assessed, an IEP meeting will be held. The IEP team will discuss the assessment results and determine whether your child is eligible for special education services. An IEP will be developed during the meeting.
Step 4: IEP Review	If your child is receiving special education services, their IEP will be reviewed at an IEP team meeting at least once a year to determine how well it is meeting their needs. In addition, every three years, your child will be reassessed as needed.

For more information, contact the School and Family Support Services (SFSS) call center, at (213) 241-6701 or email: spedSFSS@lausd.net. Staff members are available to provide you with immediate assistance Monday - Friday, between the hours of 7am - 5 pm.

Scholarship Resources

Scholarships are a type of financial aid that does not have to be paid back - but students have to work to earn them! They can be awarded for academic achievement, based on financial need, for a talent or achievement, and many other categories.

Many are a “one-time” award; some can be reapplied for or renewed annually while the student is in college. An essay or other form of application is usually required, and recommendations may be needed for certain types of scholarship applications.

There are thousands of scholarships on offer every year from reputable sources and a few are listed below.

Students should never pay a fee to apply for a scholarship, or disclose personal information to a non-trusted source!
