Comments: * We have a plan to help the students but we need better, prepared teachers with a vocation to be teachers because their responsibility is to teach! * The students with a low performance should be the main focus in order to prepare them to attend a university. * I would like for parents to be given more information about the IB program.

Comments: * I believe that us parents do need to become active participants in the school and at home with our children's education. *The plan must commit to communicate with parents through multiple processes. For example, teachers should communicate with parents by sending letters to the home that inform parents how to monitor their child's academic progress. The main point to be made is that multiple methods of communication must be adopted to strengthen the communication between the home and the school (teachers). *The administrators also need to communicate their vision, goals and plan for the year with parents.
