OPENING

Deborah Brandy called the meeting to order at 3:30 PM.

ROLL CALL

Paul Gonzales conducted the roll call. Quorum was not established.

MINUTES

Deborah Brandy asked the members to review the August 23, 2018 meeting minutes. A motion to accept the minutes was not made due to quorum not being established.

Ms. Brandy began the meeting by welcoming everyone. She also reminded everyone in attendance that if they are not a member of the task force, they may not ask questions during meeting. She also reminded the attendees that there is a sign-up sheet for public speakers in the back of the room and two minutes will be allocated to anyone who signs up to ask questions or comment.

Ms. Brandy informed the attendees that there would be two presentations today. Ms. Brandy introduced Officer William Etue.

LOS ANGELES SCHOOL POLICE DEPARTMENT (LASPD) – ARREST DIVERSION PROGRAM AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT – OFFICER WILLIAM ETUE

Officer William Etue, LASPD shared data and information regarding his current work as the juvenile arrest diversion coordinator. In 2014, he worked with Ruth Cusick and other members of the labor community strategies to develop the juvenile arrest diversion program. Officer Etue stated the program is going on its fourth year and has been very successful. He shared arrest diversion data from 2016-17 and 2017-18 school year. The data summarized the diversion program by offense, race, age and offenses of students 12 and under. He thanked various departments for helping with the success of the program. Members asked questions and gave comments to which Officer Etue addressed.

Officer Etue introduced Daphne Bradford, White House Champion of Change and Education Consultant at Dorsey SH. Ms. Bradford has been working with him on other school and student projects. She shared the schools she has previously worked at and gave a brief summary of projects she has been a part of to bridge the gap and build relationships with LASPD. A few of her projects include, Law Enforcement Breakfast, Silicon Valley Career tour, and Back 2 School Barbeque. Ms. Bradford introduced a few students in her program and each student provided a brief description of their experiences and the relationships they built due to the program. She mentioned that seven college scholarships were awarded to Dorsey seniors this year for $500. Furthermore, this year a new program will initiate with the Chief of Police named B3 Building Blue Bridges. The goal of the program is to establish trust and positive relationships with law enforcement. Officer Etue thanked Daphne Bradford and students for their dedication and work. Ms. Brandy also thanked Officer Etue and mentioned that he will present at a future meeting to address questions and comments he was given.

SHADOW REPORT – PRESENTERS RUTH CUSICK AND JUDY VERDUZCO

Ruth Cusick began her presentation by introducing herself and Judy Verduzco. She provided a brief background about the organization she works for and what her program offers. Judy Verduzco began by discussing the school to prison pipeline and how it is being used as a “buzz word” and everyone is aware of the expectations. She provided a brief summary about how Community Asset Development Re-defining Education (CADRE) came was established and how the School Climate Bill of Rights was developed in 2013. The document, “How can you love the kids but hate the parents? A shadow report on the unfulfilled promises of LAUSD School Discipline reform in South LA in English and Spanish was distributed to all attendees. Ms. Cusick and Ms. Verduzco addressed key components and data throughout the document. The attendees were asked to reflect and/or capture what had been shared. Ms. Cusick and Ms. Verduzco shared more information pertaining to CADRE and the work they do around education parents is their focus. The members asked questions and Ms. Cusick and Ms. Verduzco addressed them.

Ms. Brandy thanked everyone who participated and attended the meeting. She discussed the possibility of having Cadre parents participate at a future meeting to discuss their experiences. Ms. Brandy concluded by informing the attendees that Jhamed Babatunde-Bey, Restorative Justice Specialist would be leaving the department and she thanked him for his contributions over the years.

ADJOURNMENT

A motion to adjourn the meeting was made by Luis Rodriguez-Cazares. The motion was seconded by Dr. Alonzo Webb. All members were in favor. No members opposed. There were no abstentions. The motion carried. The meeting adjourned at 4:34 PM.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this Bulletin is to provide guidelines for implementing a multi-tiered framework for behavior instruction and intervention.

BACKGROUND: The Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) continually seeks to provide an appropriate and meaningful educational program in a safe and healthy environment for all students, regardless of possible physical, mental, and/or emotionally disabling conditions. Section 14001.6(c)(7) of Title 20 of the United States Code and Section

Students with disabilities experiencing behavioral challenges in the school environment must be afforded the opportunity to be supported using the evidence-based practices found in Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS). It is the responsibility of the IEP team to design a plan to address student behavior through teaching. It is the school staff's responsibility to implement positive behavior support even if such support is not specified in the IEP. The IEP does not supplant the school's responsibility for holding all staff accountable for implementing Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS).

Interim Behavior Response Plan (IBRP)

The Interim Behavior Response Plan (IBRP) supports school teams in the development and implementation of an immediate and interim plan for preventing and responding to behaviors. This plan does not replace Functional Behavior Assessments and/or Behavior Support Plans.

The cycle of acting out behavior follows a distinct sequence. It is important that those responding to the acting out behavior create and implement a plan based upon each part of the cycle and that planned responses are individualized based upon the student's own behavior characteristics. Each stage of the IBRP addresses the student's behavior as well as staff responses (suggested strategies) that should be used to support the student in remaining or returning to calm. Teams must address both student and staff responses for each stage.

Intensity

Stage 1: Calm

Baseline Behavior: (What the student's behavior is like when they are calm and not displaying problem behaviors. The team should not be appropriate to your particular student. See the IBRP for more information.)

Student Behavior: (What does the student look like when they are calm and not displaying problem behaviors? What are the observable behaviors exhibited during this stage?)

- Engages in lesson
- Maintains on-task behavior
- Follows directions
- Responds to positive and corrective feedback
- Engaging in problem behaviors

Behavior Support

We focus on the following principles of behavior.

- Behavior is anything that we say or do.
- Behavior always serves a purpose.
- Behavior is communication.
- Behavior is learned.
- Behavior communicates a need.
- Every behavior has a function – an effect on the environment.

The Three-Term Contingency

A

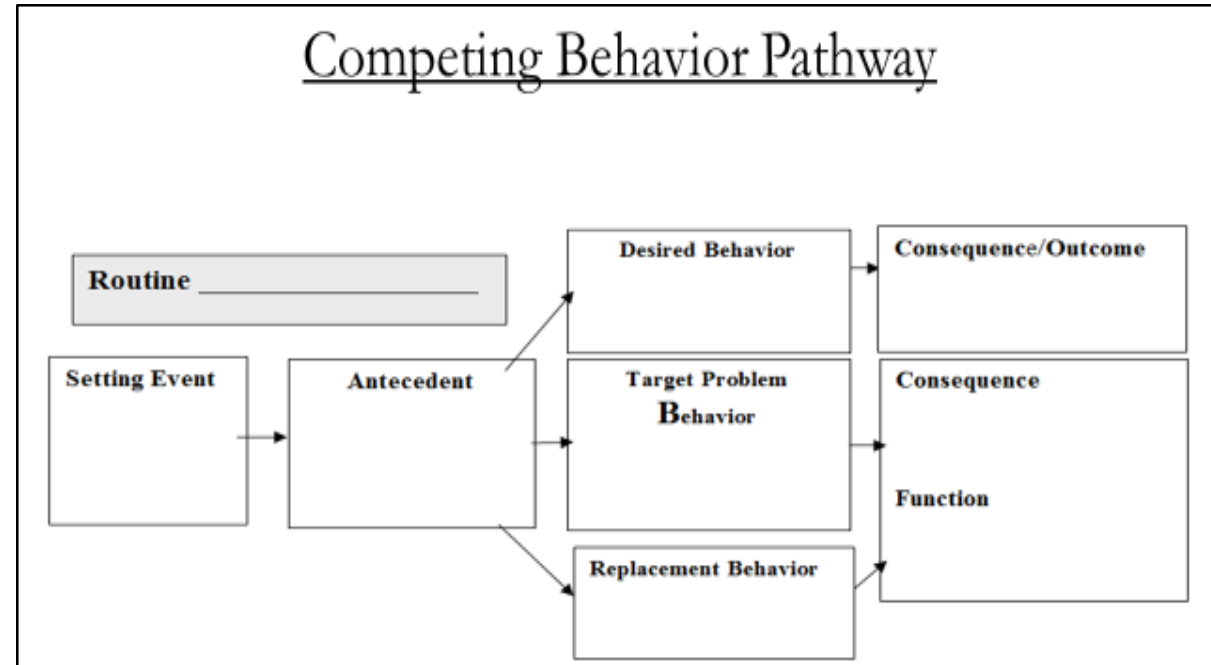

Antecedent – What happened before the behavior? (Triggers or patterns)

B

Behavior – What behavior did you observe? (What does it look like?)

C

Consequence – What happened as a result of the behavior? (What is being presented or removed?)

Positive Behavior Support

Serving All Students

Positive Behavior Intervention and Support (PBIS) is a set of research-based strategies used to increase positive behavior, decrease problem behavior and increase quality of life by teaching new skills and making changes in a person's environment. This video shows how PBIS is applied at the individual, classroom and school-wide levels to increase academic performance, improve safety and establish a positive school culture.

“I’ve come to a frightening conclusion that I am the decisive element in the classroom. It’s my personal approach that creates the climate. It’s my daily mood that makes the weather.

As a teacher, I possess a tremendous power to make a child’s life miserable or joyous. I can be a tool of torture or an instrument of inspiration. I can humiliate or heal. In all situations, it is my response that decides whether a crisis will be escalated or de-escalated and a child humanized or dehumanized.”

In closing, . . . in a perfect world, even if everything goes well, you may not be able to control the weather, but you can adjust the climate!

Standard 4. CULTURE OF LEARNING AND POSITIVE BEHAVIOR					Evidence Guide for Standard 4, Culture of Learning and Positive Behavior
A) Creates or maintains a culture conducive to educator growth
ELEMENTS	INEFFECTIVE	DEVELOPING	EFFECTIVE	HIGHLY EFFECTIVE	EXAMPLES OF EVIDENCE
1. Creates or maintains a positive school climate, including workplace conditions for staff	Does not promote a school-wide climate of fairness, respect and collaboration; and does not create or maintain workplace conditions that staff perceive to be positive.	Inconsistently promotes a school-wide climate of fairness, respect and collaboration, and works to create or maintain workplace conditions that some staff perceive to be positive.	Consistently promotes a school-wide climate of fairness, respect and collaboration, and to create or maintain workplace conditions that most staff perceive to be positive.	Collaboratively and systematically creates or maintains workplace conditions that nearly all staff perceive to be positive; most staff demonstrate their commitment to a school-wide climate of fairness, respect and collaboration.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • School Experience Survey for Employees • Observation of staff room, restrooms, and resource room • Schedules of adjunct duties, playground and bus supervision • Notes from teacher representative’s interaction with school leader • Discipline/student behavior logs that indicate follow-up • Observation of interactions in classrooms, PLCs, school meetings, and informal settings • Photos or screen shots of norms • Observation of the use of norms during meetings • Staff recognition • ISTAR (Incident System Tracking Accountability Report) • School Accountability Report Card (SARC)
2. Manages respectful conflict resolution in the school community	Does not create or maintain a professional working environment where staff and family members communicate differences of opinion in a respectful manner; does not facilitate respectful resolution of conflicts, or does not intervene when conflicts become heated or disrespectful.	Is inconsistent in attempts to create or maintain a professional environment where staff and family members communicate differences of opinion in a respectful manner; attempts to facilitate respectful resolution of conflicts with moderate success.	Consistently creates or maintains a professional environment where most staff and family members communicate differences of opinion in a respectful manner; when needed, facilitates respectful resolution of conflicts.	Has established and maintains a professional environment where nearly all staff and most family members communicate differences of opinion in a respectful manner and actively work independently or collaboratively (with or without the school leader) to respectfully resolve conflicts (as appropriate).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Observation of the use of norms and protocols for respectful disagreement • Notes from a conflict resolution session between staff or other members of school community

Standard 4. CULTURE OF LEARNING AND POSITIVE BEHAVIOR					Evidence Guide for Standard 4, Culture of Learning and Positive Behavior
B) Creates or maintains a culture conducive to student growth
ELEMENTS	INEFFECTIVE	DEVELOPING	EFFECTIVE	HIGHLY EFFECTIVE	EXAMPLES OF EVIDENCE
1. Promotes and implements systems to foster positive student behavior	Rarely implements a School-Wide Positive Behavior Intervention and Support plan, including Restorative Justice practices, in alignment with the district’s Discipline Foundation Policy, or implementation is incomplete, so that students’ social-emotional needs are rarely addressed.	Occasionally implements a School-Wide Positive Behavior Intervention and Support plan, including Restorative Justice practices, in alignment with the district’s Discipline Foundation Policy. Adults inconsistently implement the plan, and students’ social-emotional needs are unevenly addressed.	Regularly implements a School-Wide Positive Behavior Intervention and Support plan, including Restorative Justice practices, in alignment with the district’s Discipline Foundation Policy. Most adults consistently implement the plan, and work to ensure that students’ social-emotional needs are consistently addressed.	Systematically and collaboratively implements a School-Wide Positive Behavior Intervention and Support plan, including Restorative Justice practices, in alignment with the district’s Discipline Foundation Policy. Nearly all adults in the school consistently support, implement and monitor the plan, proactively working to ensure that students’ social-emotional needs are systematically addressed.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • School-wide Positive Behavior Support Plan • Rules, consequences, and rewards posted • Rules, consequences and recognition referred to in meetings and bulletins • Student self-assessment of behavior; behavior contracts • Observation of informal and school-wide settings • Analysis of student behavior data • Discipline/student behavior logs • Photos of classrooms (e.g., behavior charts) • Regular and systematic student recognition • Photos or flyers re: peer mediation • School review evidence (WASC, Pilot, DVR) • Discipline data from MiSiS • ROI (Rubric of Implementation) rating • Presentation slides for assemblies • Social-emotional supports are provided to students
2. Creates or maintains a culturally responsive and equitable environment⁸	Fails to address concerns or provide professional development about working in and supporting a diverse community; few staff engage in discussion regarding, or application of, equity and culturally-responsive pedagogy.	Provides compliant professional development to help staff understand issues of equity and how culturally-responsive practices support a diverse community; integration of culturally-responsive practices throughout the school is inconsistent.	Provides proactive professional development to ensure that staff understand issues of equity and how culturally-responsive pedagogy and practices support a diverse community; staff consistently integrate these practices throughout the school.	Provides proactive professional development and parent education to ensure that nearly all staff, family members, and community members collaborate to create a school that promotes equity and culturally-responsive pedagogy and practices, and that is supportive of a diverse community; nearly all stakeholders integrate these practices throughout the school.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Evidence of PD that prepares teachers to teach in a diverse setting and/or with certain sub-groups • School leader models flexibility in instructional style, validation of multiple cultures, respect • Observation of school leader/parent interaction • Observation of school-wide or classroom events where students take risks and/or ask for help • Evidence of school leader meeting with students 1-on-1 for support as needed • Evidence of a peer support group in place • School-established support for diverse groups is evident and promotes tolerance • Notes from classroom observations that demonstrate teachers’ conscious, intentional efforts to embed culturally-relevant material and information • Data on referrals

⁸A Culturally Relevant and Responsive Education (CRRE) is defined as “educating all children by incorporating their emotional, social, and cognitive cultural experiences into the teaching and learning process. Educational systems must “respect and value students’ cultural backgrounds and histories, but also...build instructional strategies that benefit from students’ life experiences and learning styles.” Equitable is defined as the “creation of an environment that reflects students’ cultural diversity, including fair and equitable access to educational opportunities and resources for all” (Maddahian & Bird, 2003, pp. 4, 5).

B) Creates or maintains a culture conducive to student growth
ELEMENTS	INEFFECTIVE	DEVELOPING	EFFECTIVE	HIGHLY EFFECTIVE	EXAMPLES OF EVIDENCE
3. Motivates students toward goal attainment and future aspirations	Rarely encourages students to set or achieve learning goals, either for their immediate future or toward their college and career aspirations. Few adults actively support students in goal setting and achievement.	Creates occasional opportunities for students to engage in setting and achieving learning goals, either for their immediate future or toward their college and career aspirations. Adults support some students in goal setting and achievement.	Creates or maintains conditions and regular opportunities for students to engage in setting and achieving learning goals, both for their immediate future and toward their college and career aspirations. Adults support most students in goal setting and achievement.	Collaboratively establishes processes and systematic opportunities for students to engage in setting and achieving learning goals, both for their immediate future and toward their college and career aspirations. Adults support all students in goal setting and achievement. Mastery of skills and goal attainment are recognized and publicly celebrated.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students lead or participate in formal daily structures that explicitly link student aspirations and achievement • Celebrations of student success include the message that all students can achieve with effort • Students who have worked hard and accomplished goals or met milestones are celebrated • Students can describe a pathway to their goals and aspirations and translate aspirations into concrete plans that define day-to-day expectations and what preparation means • Evidence of advisory, peer mentoring or similar programs to ensure processes are in place to monitor student progress and provide advocates for every student • Systems for students to access supports • Notes from assemblies or events
4. Engages stakeholders in courageous conversations about bias and its effect on student learning	Rarely recognizes or speaks out against stakeholder language or actions that demonstrate bias toward students (including bias based on race, ethnicity, socio-economic status, disability, and gender), and does not attempt to change such behaviors.	Occasionally recognizes or speaks out against stakeholder language or actions that demonstrate bias toward students (including bias based on race, ethnicity, socio-economic status, disability, and gender); may attempt to change such behaviors, but with uneven results.	Recognizes and speaks out against language and actions that demonstrate bias toward students (including bias based on race, ethnicity, socio-economic status, disability, and gender) and works with stakeholders to challenge and change such behaviors.	Builds the capacity of the school community to recognize and challenge language and actions that demonstrate bias toward students (including bias based on race, ethnicity, socio-economic status, disability, and gender) and supports members of the school community in working to challenge and change such behaviors.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Evidence of public and private discussions of bias and prejudice • Evidence that principal responds to occurrences of bias, prejudice, or stereotyping, and follows through regarding expected changes • Surveys and interviews with parents or students • Conference memos • Evidence that others in the school community challenge or address occurrences of bias, prejudice or stereotyping

Discipline Foundation Policy (DFP) and Rubric of Implementation (ROI)
2018-2019

Deborah D. Brandy, Director

Background

In 2013, the Board of Education adopted School Discipline Policy (DFP) and School Climate Bill of Rights Resolution, calling for revision of the Discipline Foundation Policy and the establishment of the School Climate Bill of Rights. This resolution reinforced the expectation that the District fully implement School Wide Positive Behavior Intervention and Support (SWPBIS) district-wide and required the development of a plan and a regular updates to the Board. The Superintendent's plan, submitted to the Board of Education in 2013, outlines how the District will achieve full implementation of SWPBIS, as measured by the Rubric of Implementation (ROI). Each school is responsible for implementing the eight key features of SWPBIS, as defined in the ROI.

The eight key features of the ROI are:

1. Administrative Leadership and support
2. Team Based Implementation
3. Behavioral Expectations Defined
4. Behavior Expectations Taught
5. Acknowledge and Reinforce Appropriate Behavior
6. Monitor and Correct Behavioral Errors
7. Data Based Decision Making
8. Family and Community Collaboration

The ROI is both a self-assessment tool for school sites, as well as an assessment used by Local District Instructional Directors, Administrators of Operations, and Operations Coordinators, in collaboration with school site administrators.

ROI scoring may be completed in the first semester to help schools and local districts to identify areas for growth. Final ROI scores are determined collaboratively with school site administrators and Local Districts. Local Districts determine final ROI scores for each school site. Final scores are documented by LD School Operations personnel in the DFP on-line system in the Spring (this school year, no later than May 24, 2019). Schools' ROI scores are shared with the SWPBIS Taskforce, Educational Resource Consultants (ERC) the external auditor, the U.S. Department of Education, Office for Civil Rights (OCR) and the Board of Education.
